Woman, Mass of Flames, Fights For Life

CRIES BRING HELP FROM NEIGHBORS

Mrs. Edward H. Mitchell in Serious Condition Result Of Gasoline Fire

WHILE her two small children, a daughter 2 years of age and a son 2 months old, were peacefully enjoying their afternoon naps, Mrs. Edward H. Mitchell of 623 North Isabel street went to the garage of her home yesterday afternoon to clean gloves and other small articles in gasoline. In some way, as yet unknown, the gasoline became ignited and Mrs. Mitchell received serious burns over most of her body and is today in a serious condition and under the care of specialists at the Glendale Research Hospital.

According to neighbors, who were first to hurry to Mrs. Mitchell's assistance, the accident occurred about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mitchell, who is an attorney with offices in Los Angeles, was in Riverside on legal business.

There were four neighbor women who hurried to Mrs. Mitchell and helped in putting out the fire. They were Mrs. Van R. Rauch and Mrs. W. F. Carroll, who live on either side of the Mitchell home; and Mrs. R. M. Ritchey and Mrs. Adolph Fuelscher, who live directly across the street.

Mass of Flames

Mrs. Fuelscher, who was the second person to arrive, states that she heard a woman screaming and, looking out, she saw Mrs. Mitchell a mass of flames, running from the garage of her home down the driveway. Mrs. Rauch had also heard the cries for help and, seizing a blanket, she rushed to Mrs. Mitchell's aid.

By the time Mrs. Fuelscher and Mrs. Rauch reached the Mitchell driveway Mrs. Mitchell fell unconscious. The two women and Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Ritchey wrapped Mrs. Mitchell in the blanket in an attempt to smother the flames, which had gotten an angry start when Mrs. Mitchell ran from the garage out into the windy air.

Burst Out Anew

Mrs. Carroll states that every time the blanket was lifted the flames burst out anew and it was necessary to keep Mrs. Mitchell almost smothered with the heavy covering.

As a result of the explosion the garage was in flames and the fire department was called to save the building.

Dr. R. M. Ritchey was the physician called, and Mrs. Mitchell was taken to the Glendale Research hospital. While burned practically all over her body, she regained consciousness and asked for her children and talked with her husband, who was summoned from Riverside. Her mother and sister, who live in Bakersfield, have been called to her bedside.

Reports from the hospital this morning stated that Mrs. Mitchell had passed a good night, considering the seriousness of her condition. This morning a consultation of Glendale physicians and Los Angeles specialists was held. However, the full extent of her burns and the outcome cannot be determined for several days, they state.

Armour & Co. Absorb Rival Packing Plant

CHICAGO, March 21.—Morris & Company, packers, ceased to exist today. The transfer of its physical properties to Armour & Company as a result of the deal which has occupied months has been effected.

It is reported in financial circles that Armour & Company plan to absorb 30 per cent of the employes of Morris & Company. Whether the remaining 70 per cent would be jobless was conjectural.

Russia to Establish Munitions Factories

COPENHAGEN, March 21.—The Russian war council has acted favorably upon the request of Leonid Trotsky, people's commissar for war, that four new factories be established for the manufacture of muntions and other war materials, according to information from Moscow today.

Lord Carnarvon Not Victim of Ancient Curse, Say Scientists

PARIS, March 21.—Lady Carnarvon, wife of the Egyptian explorer, whose airplane dash to the side of her sick husband was interrupted by her own illness, received word today that Lord Carnarvon is better. A member of the British embassy handed Lady Carnarvon a telegram regarding her husband's condition just as she was about to leave for Lyons.

Dr. George Smyde, who accompanied Lady Carnarvon, made the trip to Lyons by airplane. Lady Carnarvon said if her health permitted she would fly from Lyons to Rome. If not, she would make the trip to Egypt by boat, while Dr. Smyde hastened on ahead via airplane. The price of the 3,500 mile trip from London to Luxor was estimated at 350 pounds sterling.

Lord Carnarvon sustained an infection of the cheek following the bite of an insect at Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb. Scientists scoffed at a report that the Egyptologist was the victim of an ancient curse of the Pharaohs because he disturbed Tut's tomb in the Valley of the Kings. They said that a "curse" could hardly cause such an ailment as that from which Lord Carnarvon is suffering.

BILL PROVIDES DIVISION OF COUNTIES

Measure by Rominger of Long Beach Considered Of Importance

Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Senator Jo Rominger of Long Beach is introducing a constitutional amendment to make possible the division of large counties in the state of California.

It is a legislative duty, in the eyes of residents of certain sections of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, Sonoma and San Luis Obispo counties, to change the present law so that political expediency may be served in these various territorial subdivisions.

Really, it is a question second only to reapportionment, if it were not for the budget battle. In the latter the solons are getting somewhat restless under the barrage of school orators.

As one said with a yawn, "Well, Will C. Wood has cooked his own goose.". Just exactly how that may be interpreted depends, but it is clearly evident a compromise will be effected resulting in greater efficiency on the part of our schools.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, prominent Los Angeles club woman, is at the capital urging that funds derived from the Norwalk state hospital oil land leases be given that institution.

The governor has urged emergency passage of the measure to permit the leasing of the land, it being a joint resolution by Senator E. J. Gates of Los Angeles.

Hold Rich Turk on Charges of Larceny

CHICAGO, March 21.—Joseph Mohammed, 24, a Turk, and his French-Canadian bride, Mrs. Ella Westley Mohammed, 22, were taken from a train here by police today at the request of Detroit authorities who telegraphed that the Moslem was wanted to explain a larceny case there involving $700.

Mohammed, who claims to be a wealthy rice grower of California, known in Sacramento and in Ogden, Utah, was carrying canceled checks amounting to $50,000. He made no statement, but his pretty bride said his father was a judge in Turkey and that he was an intimate friend of Kemal Pasha.

Chinese Gamblers Are Held Up by Bandits

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—"Little Shanghai," an elaborate gambling place just across the San Mateo county line, was held up by three armed bandits today who escaped with $5,000 after seizing the table stakes and robbing 100 Chinese patrons who were lined up against the wall of the room, its owners, Louis Leon and Chin Park, reported to the police. The bandits fled in a car after locking their victims in the building and cutting the telephone wires.

ASKS ACTION ON AIRPORT PURCHASE

City Manager Reeves Urges C. of C. Directors to Pass Resolution

W. H. Reeves, city manager, yesterday extended an invitation to the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, at their weekly luncheon in the Citizens' building, to be present at the meeting of the City Council last night to hear and to take part in the discussion of the proposal to submit to the voters of Glendale the question of the acquisition of the site of the proposed Glendale airport through the medium of a bond issue of $49,500, to be voted on at the election on April 10.

It was explained by Manager Reeves that the purchase of the site of the airport would not cost the taxpayers of Glendale a cent, as the payments on the land would be met from the revenue which will be received from it as soon as the city authorities are in a position to make definite leases to industrial concerns. Mr. Reeves also suggested that a motion supporting the course which the city has adopted in the purchase of the site, with a clause condemning the present injunction suit that is now before the courts, would materially strengthen the position of the City Council.

Kitterman Objects

On the motion of Peter Ferry the directors agreed to pass the resolution requested by Mr. Reeves, but not before R. F. Kitterman had expressed himself as being opposed to any action of this nature at this time. Mr. Kitterman explained his stand by saying that as the matter is now in the courts for adjudication the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce ought to allow it to rest there until such time as the courts announced their decision, and that it would then be in order to decide on the proper way to purchase the property.

George B. Karr, chairman of the civics committee, reported on various matters that the committee has been engaged in for the past week, among them being the meeting that was held last night with representatives of the Santa Monica Boulevard Improvement association. Mr. Karr recom-

Innocent Indian Is Freed After 25 Years

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Harding has granted a pardon to Charner Tidwell, a half breed Cherokee Indian, who served 25 years in the Atlanta federal prison for a murder he did not commit, it was announced at the department of justice today. Tidwell was finally vindicated by the death-bed confession of the widow of Jim Brown, the man whom he was charged with killing.

Applications for a pardon for Tidwell had been rejected by Presidents Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson before an investigation of the case was started by Attorney-General Daugherty.

Tidwell was only 17 years old when he entered prison. All appeals for clemency had been denied until recently. Mrs. Brown stated as she was dying that it was her lover (who later became her second husband), who was the actual murderer. Mrs. Brown had been indicted jointly with Tidwell, but she was acquitted.

Brown was killed at Tallequah, Indian Territory, now Oklahoma, on June 17, 1899. Mrs. Brown's confession absolving Tidwell was followed by another confession by the son of the murdered man, whose testimony helped to convict Tidwell, the department of justice said.

Tidwell, now released from prison, returned to Oklahoma to find himself a millionaire. Since his imprisonment, he inherited oil lands of tremendous value. A group of women, headed by Miss Alice Robertson, former Oklahoma representative in congress, was active in having Tidwell liberated.

Tenants Driven From Apartments by Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Scores of tenants in nearby apartment houses were driven from their beds early today when fire accompanied by two terrific explosions caused the practical destruction of a Golden Gate avenue auto-top factory. Fire reached two gasoline tanks causing the explosions. Damage is estimated between $25,000 and $50,000.

Double Marriage of Two Local Couples Causes Celebration

A double marriage of Glendale young folks was recorded yesterday, Tuesday, March 20, 1923, in the Hall of Records, Los Angeles.

One couple became Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Nichols, the bride being Miss Myrtle Pittman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Pittman, of 1335 South San Fernando Road; and the bridegroom being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Nichols, of 910 East Elk street.

The other couple became Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Nicklin, the bride being Miss Eula Linkogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linkogel of 328½ North Howard street; and the bridegroom being the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brock of 2501 Hermosita Drive.

A reception was held for both couples last night, at the Nichols home on East Elk street, where a jolly send-off was given the newlyweds.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols are planning to spend their honeymoon in Honolulu, Hawaii, while Mr. and Mrs. Nicklin are leaving in a day or so for Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Upon their return, both couples will take up their permanent residence in Glendale.

Mr. Nichols is engaged in the bicycle business, in this city, and Mr. Nicklin in the electric business in Los Angeles.

SENDS FORTH FINGERPRINT BY RADIO

Put Through Space of 1500 Miles Much Like the Human Voice

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—A new twist was given radio today when it was conclusively proven that fingerprints could be broadcasted through the air, much the same as the human voice. The fingerprints were unerringly traced over 1500 miles of space during a radio broadcasting test between Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles.

The results of the demonstration, which were witnessed by government, state and county officials, were said to promise a revolution of crime detection.

The broadcasting of finger prints as accomplished today is said to be the realization of dreams of old men and was made possible through the genius of one of the youngest scientists in the world, Leroy J. Liesch, who originated a special device for radio fingerprint photography.

American Woolen Co. Grants Wage Advance

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 21.—The American Woolen company today announced a wage increase of 12½ per cent to become effective April 1. The increase affects 15,000 operatives here and a total of about 30,000 in more than fifty mills throughout New England and New York state.

PIUTES TURN FOR DEATH BATTLE

Renegade Indians Brought To Bay in Mountains By Pursuers

MONTICELLO, Utah, March 21.—Surrounded in a dense and rocky woods four miles from Blanding, a band of Piute Indians, led by "Old Posey," famous fighter and leader of the last big Indian battle seven years ago, were early today at bay and prepared for what was expected to be a battle to the death.

Already the miniature uprising has cost the life of one Indian, resulted in the wounding of two others, and it is feared will end in death for at least some whites before the band, now surrounded, near Blanding, is captured or killed.

The inception of the trouble was last Saturday, when two Piutes were giving the police of this county much concern on account of petit offenses, and were arrested on account of the looting of sheep camps and the intimidation of herders.

Their trial on a charge of petit larceny was held at Blanding, twenty-two miles south of here, yesterday morning. The Indians, Joe Bishop's "Boy," and "Dutches," were found guilty of petit larceny.

Disarm Sheriff

When Sheriff Oliver got on his horse and told them to come to dinner, Bishop's "Boy" picked up a club and said: "Take me if you can."

Sheriff Oliver drew his six-shooter and told the Indian he would have to shackle him and bring him. The Indian ran to a horse tied nearby to make his getaway. The sheriff snapped his gun which did not explode. Sheriff Oliver, with his gun in hand, caught the bridle reins of the Indian's horse and a scuffle ensued, the Indian taking the sheriff's gun from him and started to run.

Sheriff Oliver made for his house, got another gun and made after the Indian, who, meantime, had found the fault of the gun and remedied it.

A fight ensued, the Indian shooting the sheriff's horse from under him with the sheriff's gun.

Other Indians at the trial evidently had guns concealed on their persons, and they joined the fugitives in flight. When a posse caught up, several Indians were with the fugitives and had high powered rifles. They shot one horse from under a deputy and put two bullets through the clothes of another. This occurred two miles from town.

Fire On Deputies

About this time a car loaded with deputies appeared and the Indians discharged five shots at the car. One bullet went through the car seat lengthwise on which three deputies were sitting, and another bullet punctured a tire.

The posse surrounded the Indians, numbering a dozen or more, and a long fight was kept up until night.

A courier was sent to Monticello for long range guns, and when he returned to the scene the battle was resumed, continuing for over two hours. In this fighting, Joe Bishop's "Boy" was killed and two other Indians wounded, with no casualties among the posse.

The Indians then retired to the woods in which they are now surrounded.

ORGANIZE TO WIN VOTES FOR BONDS

Cameron D. Thom Selected President of Body to Boost Airport Buy

An organization to boost the passage of the $49,500 bond issue for the purchase of the local airport at the approaching municipal election was formed last night in the council chamber of the city hall.

Judge F. H. Lowe of 310 Patterson avenue called the meeting to order. Cameron D. Thom of 131 South Brand boulevard was elected president of the new organization. Col. James W. Everington of 531 North Louise street was elected secretary and Herman Nelson of 700 East Broadway was selected as treasurer.

Although the meeting was of an invitational nature, a number of citizens were present who had not received invitations and made an attempt to turn the session into a mass meeting. It was definitely stated that this had not been the purpose in calling the meeting and those attempting to commence a discussion on the subject of the airport were ruled out of order.

John R. Grey of 667 West Doran street expressed surprise that "an acting judge would lend his support to sanction the illegal action of the City Council in purchasing the airport."

Right to Talk, He Says

Rudolph Streit, of 346 Pioneer drive, arose to make a few remarks about contaminated water. He objected, when ruled out of order, and stated that as a citizen he had a perfect right to speak at a public meeting. Councilman Sam Davis of 118 West Colorado street objected. The controversy ended in Judge Lowe explaining that Mr. Streit was one of those who had not been invited to the meeting.

Alex Mitchell of 2001 Kenneth road expressed an opinion that all expenditures of this magnitude should be referred by the city administration to a popular vote. He agreed that the land had been purchased at a fair price.

City Manager W. H. Reeves quoted Commodore A. W. Marshall, commander of the aircraft squadron of the Pacific Fleet, as stating at the recent air rodeo that the airport was a patriotic necessity in order that an attempt to raid California by airplane from a base in Mexico might not find this country entirely unprepared.

Dr. Jessie Russell of 208 South Brand boulevard expressed a desire that the proceedings might be conducted according to parliamentary law in order that the formation of the organization could not be criticised on this basis.

Leases in Demand

That the site would return an income through a ground rental of $3 per front foot per year which would pay for the property and all charges was reported by City Manager W. H. Reeves. He stated that leases were greatly in demand by industries and by firms that wish to establish hangars.

Councilman A. H. Lapham stated that the Southern Pacific had agreed to put a spur track to the property without cost to the city.

A rising vote endorsed a resolution favoring a bond issue to pay for the thirty-three-acre airport site.

Identity of Woman Suicide Is Probed

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Officials of the relief home today were endeavoring to ascertain something of the identity of Ella Weaver, who committed suicide early today by leaping from a third story window of the home. She had been received at the institution last night following her arrest suffering from alcoholism. She declined to give her address or state her relatives.

British Will Aid in Disarming Germans

LONDON, March 21.—Great Britain will co-operate in enforcing disarmament of Germany under the terms of the Versailles treaty, despite the French invasion of the Ruhr, Premier A. Bonar Law announced in commons this afternoon.

Harding Makes Plans For Western Journey During Summer Time

VERO, Fla., March 21.—Secluded once more aboard his houseboat, President Harding spent considerable time today going over with his advisers the tentative plans that have been made for his western tour this summer.

The announcement of his candidacy to succeed himself, made by Attorney-General Daugherty, has made it imperative that plans which have merely been talked about for some weeks, be now put in definite shape.

The condition of Mrs. Harding caused some concern to members of the presidential party today. The strenuosity of her stay in Miami taxed the strength of Mrs Harding somewhat and she had experienced a slight recurrence of the illness that proved almost fatal last September. Absolute rest and quiet have been prescribed for her for the remainder of the trip with no more receptions and social engagements such as featured her stay in Miami.

The houseboat Pioneer left here this morning after spending the night at Anchorage, two miles above here. The president planned to play golf at Melbourne today and continue his cruise northward towards St. Augustine at its conclusion.

German Opposition Crumbles, Is Claimed

ESSEN, March 21.—Violence has died down in the Ruhr and French officers claimed today that their task had become much easier within the past few days. In some districts the local authorities have even consented to cooperate with the French military authorities.

The chief cities of the Ruhr buzzed with reports that negotiations are about to be opened which may lead to the withdrawal of the French and Belgians. The German government has been looking for an opening but the French have been and still are insisting that any representation made by Berlin must be made directly to France.

There have been no further strikes and many of the miners and railroaders who struck are seeking to return to work.

Invaders Will Resume Places on Commission

LONDON, March 21.—France and Belgium have announced their intention of resuming their places on the allied commission for military control of Germany, it was revealed by the foreign office this afternoon. Both gave up their places on the commission after the invasion of the Ruhr.

France has warned Germany that the French and Belgians must be accorded military control facilities equal to those exercised by the other allies. British officials are maintaining silence regarding the report which Lord D'Abernon, British ambassador to Germany, made upon German conditions. It was stated in diplomatic circles that Lord D'Abernon informed the British foreign office that Germany could hold out several months longer.

INVASION IN RAILROAD FIGHT IS FEARED

Citizens Organize to Halt Threatened Raid by Union Workers

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service

HARRISON, Ark., March 21.—Armed guards once more are patrolling Harrison, the storm center of the strike directed for two years against the Missouri & North Arkansas railroad.

Machine guns are posted today on every road and along the draw of Crooked Creek run.

The populace of the Ozarks are convinced they are on the eve of a labor battle—a fight of armed men, which threatens at any moment.

It is in preparation for this possible battle that the Ozarks have armed, creating a citizen army on guard twenty-four hours a day, bringing in six machine guns and establishing a bristling battle front.

Meanwhile, the state legislative committee is proceeding with its second day of investigation of the riots of last January.

The battle Harrison fears, may occur when the committee, now in session, renders its report.

Await Invasion

The one subject of discussion here is of the expected invasion of union sympathizers. Reports are current that a thousand union men, armed and traveling in motor cars, will leave the Missouri state line at Branson, invading Harrison in the early morning hours, hurling dynamite and bombs. During the last week more than thirty families, relatives and friends of strikers who left here in January, have moved from Harrison. Each moved in answer to urgent letters from former strikers, urging them to "get out of Harrison now."

The citizen army is composed of 350 men—lawyers, doctors, merchants and others, divided into seven companies, each company doing eight hours guard duty. Every man has a rifle slung across his shoulders, a pistol buckled to his hip. Outposts have been established ten miles from the city limits—north, east, south and west. The six machine guns cover the four main roadways leading into Harrison. They are set in position to sweep the forests leading to the Missouri line.

Arkansas is no place for strange railroad men.

Judges, the town marshals, lawyers, farmers, merchants, doctors, even mechanics, went on record to that effect today—the second day of the investigation by the state legislative committee of the January disorders here growing out of Mrs. Phillips is spending the winter at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. E. Busser, 148 South Normandie, Los Angeles.

Charles Reinecke of Pittsburg, Pa., is at present the house guest of his brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Reinecke of 532 West Broadway. Mrs. Charles Reinecke will join her husband in a very few days, and they will make their permanent home in Glendale. Mr. Reinecke is also a brother of Mrs. W. L. Foultz of 111 East Elk street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryant and children, of 512 West Lexington drive, motored to Sawtelle Sunday, where they were guests at the home of Mr. Bryant's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Bryant.

Miss Frances McCarver of Los Angeles will be the overnight guest this evening of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Bullock of 517 West Park avenue.

Mrs. E. M. Furnas, who has been visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Heald of 308 East Lomita avenue, left Saturday for her home in Strathmore.

Mrs. I. L. Bullock of 517 West Park avenue, Miss Ruth Ryan and Mrs. Harry Ryan of West Acacia avenue and Mrs. Clifford Wyckoff of 209 South Everett street enjoyed a delightful motor trip yesterday to Glendora.

A party of Glendalians, including Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. W. McElroy and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Preston, have just recently returned from a delightful motor trip to Riverside, Palm Springs, Mexico, and San Diego. They left Glendale on Friday and returned Tuesday afternoon.

Leslie Hatch, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hatch of 618 North Kenwood street was the honoree last evening at a dinner party given by his mother in the celebration of his birthday anniversary. Covers were laid for Thomas Wood, Burton Kuntzner, Ivan Dow, Ernest Pomeroy and the honoree, Leslie Hatch.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wells of 1007 East Lomita avenue, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, who are visiting here from Harvard, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirk of Inglewood, left today on a two-day automobile trip which will take them to Riverside, Redlands, San Bernardino and other places in the orange belt.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Imler of 36 West Park avenue will entertain tonight at a bridge party for the following Pasadena guests: Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lavine, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Welden and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morrison. Messrs. Imler, Lavine, Welden and Morrison were formerly classmates at the California Institute of Technology.

Mrs. Mary J. Oliver and daughter, Miss Marie Oliver, of 1314 North Central avenue, entertained Tuesday evening with a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ead, who have just recently come to Los Angeles from Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Ead is to take over the presidency of the Security Company. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert S Wyzell, Miss Peggie Wyzell and Kenneth Wyzell.

Social Events

Anniversary Party

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Grant of the Arbor Rest home, at 1209 East Lexington drive, celebrated their nineteenth wedding anniversary yesterday, and in anticipation of the date the nurses and attendants at the home honored them with a surprise party Monday night.

On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Grant were invited out to spend the evening, but were suddenly called home, where they found a company of relatives and friends awaiting them. In their absence their home had been artistically decorated with golden poppies and purple wistaria and preparations made for dinner.

Those enjoying the affair with the Grants were Mr. and Mrs. Robertson of Eagle Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Seward Miller and son of Alhambra; Mrs. Anna Dean, Mrs. E. F. Selleck of Glendale.

After dinner they all attended a local theatre.

Informal Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gafford of 115 West Elk street entertained Saturday evening with a delightful St. Patrick's party.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white and spring flowers. Clever Irish favors and table decorations added to the beauty of the decorations.

During the evening Five Hundred was enjoyed. Mrs. E. C. Euchre and David Hepburn were awarded first prize.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. David Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Euchre, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Korby, Mrs. E. Lowman of San Francisco, Mrs. E Burton, Miss Lola Steele,, Miss Dorothy Harris, Mrs. Harris, Carl Euchre, Jack Hurbert, Mr. Steele, Roy Poehler, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gafford.

Husbands Guests

Tuesday Afternoon Club members of the literary section were hostesses Tuesday night at their annual "Husbands' Night," entertaining in the banquet room of the new club house.

During the evening A. F. Newcomb of Los Angeles gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on "California, Its Past, Present and Future." Moving pictures of the Pacific Palisades were used as illustrations.

Miss Elizabeth Mottern gave three vocal numbers which were greatly enjoyed.

Following the program an informal social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Mae Rosenberg in charge.

Dinner - Theatre

Miss Marie Oliver and mother, Mrs. Mary J. Oliver, of 1314 North Central avenue, were hostesses Monday evening at a dinner party followed by a theatre party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McGrath of Arizona. Mr. and Mrs. McGrath have been spending several months in New York and other points in the East, and were on their way to their home in Arizona.

The rooms were beautifully and artistically decorated with spring flowers. A graceful bouquet of brightly colored flowers adorned the center of the table. Hand-painted place cards and daintily favors marked the places for the guests. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Tom McGrath, Miss Lucille Anderson, and the hostesses, Mrs. Mary J. Oliver and Miss Marie Oliver.

Radio Entertains

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Esselman were the hosts at a delightful radio party at their home, 1721 Gardena street, on Saturday night. Mr. Esselman has a very good radio apparatus with a "loud speaker" attachment, and the guests were entertained with programs from Los Angeles broadcasting stations, and also a program given on the great organ at the Civic Center auditorium in San Francisco. A short time ago Mr. Esselman heard part of a program broadcasted in New Jersey.

Refreshments served by the hostess included a St. Patrick's day cake with appropriate accompaniments. Those enjoying the evening were Mrs. Theodore Esselman, mother of the host; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Walter, Thelma and James Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Croft, Billie Croft, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Esselman and family.

SANDERS CHOSEN C. C. SECRETARY

Assistant Secretary Elected To Succeed Rhoades by Board of Directors

The directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, at their adjourned meeting as a committee of the whole, yesterday elected E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary, to fill the post of secretary of the organization left vacant by the resignation of James M. Rhoades.

Mr. Sanders, previous to his election of his new position, had tendered his resignation as assistant secretary, to take effect on June 1, when his position would have terminated under the terms of the present agreement, and in order to leave the way clear for the board to proceed with the election of a secretary, and immediately following the acceptance of his resignation he was elected to the post of secretary.

Builds Membership

Mr. Sanders has been employed as assistant secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce for the past two years, devoting his time mainly to securing new members for the organization, and it is mainly due to his efforts that the membership of the Chamber of Commerce has reached its present proportions.

The new secretary last night addressed the annual meeting of the Monrovia Chamber of Commerce, on "Selling a City to Its Citizens," and was accorded an exceptionally warm reception, being complimented highly on the efficient work he has accomplished here.

Mr. Sanders is assured of the solid backing of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in his work as secretary.

DEATHS, FUNERALS

ALGERNON DOUGLAS LEVELL

The death of Algernon Douglas Levell occurred Tuesday, March 20, 1923, at the family home at 308 North Central avenue.

Mr. Levell, who was born in England September 20, 1891, had lived in California twelve years. He was an accountant by profession.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elsie Levell, and daughter June; and by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Levell and two brothers, Ernest Victor and Harold Levell of 213 West Chestnut street.

Mr. Levell was secretary of the Henry-Brown Beverage company.

Funeral services are to be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking company at the corner of North Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue. Burial will take place in Forest Lawn Memorial park.

BESSIE MADALINE WELLS

After an illness of several months, Mrs. Bessie Madaline Wells died yesterday, Tuesday, March 20, 1923, at the family home at 610 North Kenwood street.

Mrs. Wells was born twenty-nine years ago in Kokomo, Ind. She and her family have lived in California for three years, one year of which they have spent in Glendale.

The deceased leaves her husband, Cecil D. Wells, three children, Cecile M., Mary Jane and James A.; her mother, Mrs. Jessamine Prickett; and a brother, Wilbur Prickett of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Funeral services for Mrs. Wells will be held in the beautiful Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. The cloisters on either side of the nave of the peaceful little church are now brilliant with fragrant spring flowers and ferns and will present the scene for the final tribute relatives and friends will pay to Mrs. Wells.

The services will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, officiating. Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts will give vocal numbers. Interment will take place in Forest Lawn Memorial park, in which the Little Church of the Flowers is located. The Jewel City Undertaking company is in charge of arrangements.

DONALD M. FRANCE

Donald M. France died yesterday, Tuesday, March 20, 1923, at his home in Tujunga. He was a native of Carrollton, Ohio, and was 35 years of age at the time of his death. He had lived in this vicinity for three years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lulu France.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the L. G. Scovern chapel on South Brand boulevard. Burial will take place in Grand View Memorial park.

AVIATORS FAVOR GLENDALE FIELD

Vital Link in Defense of Coast, Says Head of Army Flyers

Glendale's airport is a patriotic necessity!

Army and navy officers recently agreed upon this point while attending the rodeo of the air.

Commodore A. W. Marshall, commander of aircraft of the Pacific fleet emphasized the necessity of having airports along the coast of United States as a line of defense. He stated that their importance could not be overestimated. He said that the increasing tendency to subdivide all large fields near the centers of population, so that it will become more and more difficult to establish airports, is being viewed with alarm.

Two years are required to train an aviator, according to Commodore Marshall. He stated that the training of aviators should be commenced long before war is declared. He called attention to the fact that the only hope Uncle Sam has of being able to meet an emergency in the air is by having a supply of trained aviators in commercial life who would be competent to answer their country's call at a moment's notice. He said that it is a foregone conclusion that such men cannot be trained unless airports are numerous and easily accessible.

Need Landing Fields

"The City of Glendale is said by statistics to be the fastest growing part of United States," remarked Commander M. B. McComb, commandant of the San Diego naval air base. "Aviation is the fastest developing science in America and in the world today with 90 per cent of its future before it.

"The greatest need of aviation today is for good landing fields close to large centers of population and close to the centers of transportation, industry and business."

Commander McComb expressed unlimited optimism in regard to the growth of aviation as a means of transportation. He called attention to the fact that, where aviators do not attempt spectacular stunts and are thoroughly competent to handle their planes, danger has been reduced to a minimum. As proof of this he remarked that Lloyds', which is the largest insurance company in the world, quotes a very low rate of insurance for passengers transported between London and Paris and other points in Europe over definitely established air routes. He stated that the insurance was even lower than the rate charged by this company for this same trip by other modes of travel.

"If the people of Glendale only knew it, this airport is likely to become the center of aviation enterprizes in Southern California," asserted Lieut. Alvin Makepace of Clover Field, Santa Monica. "I have talked with men who are interested in putting in airplane lines between Los Angeles and San Francisco and who expect to use this field. When the airplane mail is established into Los Angeles it will undoubtedly use this airport."

Aviator Earl S. Daugherty of Long Beach, who was one of the first airmen in United States to secure an air-pilot's license, regards the local field with great favor. He said that it is a "dandy" field but suggested that a path about a hundred feet wide might be cut through the trees south of the field in order that planes having engine trouble at the take-off might be able to get through to the vacant field to the south of the airport. He said that air currents made it essential that planes be headed that way immediately after rising.

The growth of aviation, according to Aviator Daugherty, is directly dependent upon the establishment of airports. He said that it was perfectly plain that the more landing places there are, the more airplanes will be used.

"Five years from now you will be surprised at the number of planes," he remarked. "And ten years from now there won't be enough fields in the country to handle them."

The traffic problem of the air is likely to become very acute, in the opinion of Commander McComb, who asserted: "California is filling up with people so fast that thirty odd landing fields in the vicinity of Los Angeles developed during the war have practically all been forced out of business by the increase in value of the real estate and the corresponding increase in the taxes.

"In ten years there won't be a piece of land anywhere to be developed for this purpose anywhere except at a prohibitive cost. Therefore, the City of Glendale is setting an especially fine example of civic far-sightedness in establishing a municipal airport."

NAME DELEGATES FOR LODGE MEET

Rebekahs Preparing for I. O. O. F. Anniversary On April 28

Election of two delegates to the Rebekah assembly in San Francisco, May 10, featured last night's meeting in the Odd Fellows' hall of Carnation Rebekah lodge. Those so honored were Mrs. John Strother and Mrs. L. G. Scovern.

In a stirring speech, Daniel Hall urged all to put their shoulders to the wheel, in preparation for the great I. O. O. F. 104th Anniversary celebration, to be held in the City Park, at Verdugo Woodlands, April 28, where all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Southern California will assemble.

Last night's meeting also signalized the election of three candidates to be recommended for the "Degree of Chivalry," which degree is conferred only for good and faithful service and represents one of the highest honors that can be bestowed within the Rebekah order.

Those elected were Mrs. H. C. Smith, Mrs. Loretta Schwitters and Mrs. Laura Jones.

These recommendations must go through the Sovereign Grand Lodge for consideration. If granted, the degrees will be conferred at Pomona, in October.

Mrs. Lucille Rouse was installed in due form as recording secretary for the current term, following the resignation of Mrs. James F. McBryde.

It was brought out that the Rebekahs are planning a surprise for the Odd Fellows at the I. O. O. F. hall,, Thursday night, March 22, at 8 o'clock.

Fishermen Grow Rich Running Rum, Claim

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 21.—Captains of fishing schooners along the Atlantic coast north of here are making thousands of dollars as rum runners, according to ministers who attended the New Jersey conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

They are averaging $3,000 a night carrying great cases of liquor from steamers outside the three-mile limit to the piers of New Jersey fishing centers, where big motor trucks are waiting to rush the "wet goods" to New York and Philadelphia, according to Rev. Norman G. Sargeant, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, of Camden, N. J.

Reports that rum runners were active along the coast were made at the conference sessions. Ministers decided to investigate.

Divesting themselves of frock coats and dressing up as plain fishermen, they visited Atlantic highlands, North Long Beach, and other fishing centers.

The fishermen did not hesitate to tell of the great fortunes they are amassing.

The fishermen, once poor, are fast becoming rich, they told Dr. Sargeant.

Glendale Men Share In 3000 Barrel Well

The successful completion yesterday of a new oil well at Signal Hill, "The Illustrated Review," at the corner of Orange and Burnett streets, Long Beach, means much to several local business men who bought a royalty in the well less than a week before the drill pierced through the last barrier. These men, E. A. Malcolm, 315 Ivy street; O. L. Zook, 623 North Howard; F. E. Parr, 224 South Orange, and J. N. Richards of Montrose, were present yesterday evening when the well came in with a flow of between 3000 and 4000 barrels a day, placing it among the biggest producers in the Signal Hill district.

It is estimated that the well will steady down within a few days to a flow of close to 3000 barrels, and their share in the gross output of the well will net each of them a handsome income.

The well was drilled to a depth of 4100 feet in forty-five days of actual dilling, and very little delay was experienced throughout the entire operations. These four men and some of their associates are interested in another well at Signal Hill that is now being drilled.

Life of Abraham Is Told by Evangelist

"The Problem of Abraham" occupied the attention of the audience at the Glendale Presbyterian church last evening. In a terse, telling manner, Dr. Robert A. Hadden sketched the life of Abraham, "The Father of the Faithful," and drew therefrom a number of startling deductions.

Abraham is known as "The Friend of God" and also as "The Man of God." He was without doubt an idolator in his early life. But God appeared to him at least seven times, calling him out of the East to a land which he knew not. He went out under "sealed orders." For forty-nine years he served God, proving his faith by his works. During all this time he was unjustified. He paid tithes, he served God faithfully, he did many good works, yet he was unjustified. He even received the commendation of Almighty God. One may be as religious as an angel and go to hell. Christianity does not consist in doing certain things to please God. No man is saved unless he is justified. Crying or praying or groaning or agonizing will not save a man. Nothing can save but a Person. Nothing can save or justify but Christ. We are justified or reckoned as perfect only in Christ. None can depend on anything else but the finished work of Christ for eternal salvation. Give him all the glory and all the praise and all the honor and simply trust him alone for salvation.

Dr. Hadden spoke at the service this afternoon on the "Problem of the Four Gospels." He will speak again this evening at the time of the prayer meeting service. There will be special music and plans are being made for an unusually large attendance.

LYRIC TELLS OF STATE'S BEAUTY

Youthful Poetess Sings of Joy at Living in California

A boost for Glendale is a boost for California, and vice versa, and Glendale and California have no more loyal booster than Naida J. Taylor, 12 years of age, who lives at 331 Salem street.

Naida is a loyal Californian and Glendalian, and her appreciation of her state and city she voices in the following poem:

CALIFORNIA

I live in California,
And I'm glad I do.
If you would give me everything
I wouldn't change with you.

It's very hard to say, you know,
Just what you want to say
Without hurting people's feelings
In every sort of way.

I know just what you want to say—
That your state is the best,
But to compare with California
You're exactly like the rest.

In winter when here are we,
Among the flowers all in bloom,
While the eastern folk, poor people,
Are sitting home in snow and gloom.

You think I'm really boastful—
Now really don't you true?
But you just ask some one who knows,
And they'll tell you what I do.

Now, I don't want to knock, you know—
But down in your own heart
Don't you think that
Glendale, California,
Nearly hits the mark?

Two Women Injured As Street Car Starts

As Mrs. B. H. Goodrich, 76, of 1432 South Central avenue, and her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Ashton of 322 El Bonita, were about to board a Pacific Electric car at Los Feliz boulevard for Los Angeles last Saturday morning, the car started and Mrs. Goodrich was thrown to the ground, knocking Mrs. Ashton over in her fall. Mrs. Goodrich struck the back of her head and Mrs. Ashton has a bruised shoulder, but both feel that they had a very narrow escape as Mrs. Ashton pulled her mother's arm off the rail just in time to save it from being crushed. Although bruised and shaken Mrs. Goodrich and Mrs. Ashton continued their trip to Los Angeles where a company physician examined their injuries.

Radio enthusiasts in London have scored on the powerful London press.

Under pressure from the the- atrical managers, the London pa- pers refused to publish the night- ly broadcasting programmes, the theatre folk charging that this was not fair to them, inasmuch as they paid large sums for adver- tising.

The ban against the radio pro- grammes lasted just one week; then the broadcasting company began inserting its programme in a paid advertisement in the one evening paper that had the small- est circulation. The circulation of this paper leaped upward by thou- sands over night. The other newspaper publishers saw the light and immediately rescinded their decision and began publish- ing the radio programmes free of charge, and some of the publish- ers have even made so bold as to start radio columns in their pa- pers. "The world do move," as Frank Ward O'Malley says, but it takes a lot of radio sparks to make the British newspaper world move.

Queen Mary is in her glory in her fields of Windsor daffodils. The Queen is a great lover of daf- fodils and has had acres and acres of them planted at Windsor and thoroughly enjoys gathering great armsful of them herself.

Princess Mary's baby has caused a great commotion in Lon- don. Chesterfield House is con- tinually surrounded by crowds of people who wait hours and hours to see the baby as it is taken out for its daily airing and its fre- quent visits to Buckingham Pal- ace. An enterprising street hawker is selling postcards which are allegedly pictures of the son of the Princess, and about the hawker's neck hangs a huge sign which reads:

"Have you seen the baby God gave to Princess Mary?"

"NURSING" THE RECENTL Y OVERHAULED ENGINE

Newly Fitted Parts Operate With Undue Friction At First

WHEN AN ENGINE is fresh from an overhauling, it should be treated, at first, as if it were a brand new one and needed to be broken in gently and cautiously. Many such an engine has been se- riously damaged and the benefits of the overhauling entirely lost, or worse, through lack of this pre- caution. Even if the work done has been intelligently performed, there is need enough for "nurs- ing" the engine for a time but if, through any mischance, a care- less job has been done, it is per- emptorily required. If the engine, when delivered, is found to be "stiff" when handcranked in a cold condition, it had better not be put into service until the stiff- ness is removed by long continued idle running at slow speed with specially ample lubrication and, in fact, it is hardly wise to ac- cept a job unless the engine turns over freely. On the first trip with a newly overhauled engine it is well, after a few miles of running, to shut down and try the hand crank and if the engine acts at all stiff, to allow it to cool down or at any rate to run it very slowly and gently, observing its condition at frequent intervals. If with the car stopped and the throttle and spark lever set in the customary slowest idling position, the engine stops, it is a sign that there is abnormal friction acting and the operator should heed the warning thus given. The utmost attention should, of course, be given to the lubrication of a newly overhauled engine as shortcomings in this direction will be specially damaging under such conditions. The above sugges- tions apply, for instance, in the case of an engine which has had new piston rings installed, for these may have been fitted too tightly and scratch its cylinder walls when hot; of an engine with new pistons, too much oversize to give the required clearance at working temperature; of one with some of its main or connecting- rod bearing caps set up too close- ly to permit of an oil film being maintained upon the bushings and in the case of engines the cylin- ders of which have been crudely reamed or rebored and thus are so rough as to cause excessive friction with the rings. Whene- ver there is evidence, from the indications of the radiator ther- mometer or otherwise, that an engine, just from the repair shop, is running hotter than usual, it should be stopped and the cause investigated, which if allowed to increase, may lead to serious re- sults.

Needs a Rectifier

P. B. asks: How can I arrange a transformer so that I can charge my storage battery from the house circuit, which carries alternating current?

Answer: You cannot charge your battery by the use of a trans- former only. The transformer will reduce the voltage of the house circuit to a value that is suitable for charging purposes, but it will not change the alter- nating current to direct current (current flowing continuously in one direction), which is absolute- ly required for the charging op- eration. Between the transform- er and the battery must be con- nected a rectifier, which is a sort of automatic electric valve, that lets into the battery the impulses all of which are in the same di- rection and capable of effecting charging. In practice, the trans- former and rectifying device are combined in the same instrument and almost any electrical supply dealer can obtain for you one of these rectifiers either of the vac- uum tube or vibrating armature type.

Engine Stalls Persistently

C. E. M. writes: The engine of my ——— car has troubled me, ever since cold weather set in, by stalling nearly every time that I slow it down and I have to keep the hand throttle open quite wide and slip the clutch, in traffic, to keep the engine running. What is the cause of and the remedy for this?

Answer: The reliable running of your engine at nearly closed throttle is dependent upon an adequate supply of exhaust gas from the manifold to the hot jacket of its carburetor and it is quite likely that this is not be- ing supplied, either on account of the exhaust passages being stopped up or of a wrong setting of the butter fly valve that con- trols the heat and which is inter- connected to the throttle. You better make sure that the car- buretor is getting its maximum heat. It may be that your throt- tle stop-screw has jarred loose and lets the throttle close too tightly or possibly you have an air-leak, between the carburetor and the block. Maybe you need a little tighter setting of the carburetor air-valve, but you better be sure of the heat supply, before chang- ing this adjustment.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S AND TOMMIE'S KITE

The wind was blowing, as it often does in March, and Tommie Kat, the pussy boy chap, was very glad.

"Not that I want my tail blown off," mewed Tommie, "but this wind will make it all the better for me to fly my kite."

"I'll come with you and help you," barked Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boy.

"Thank you," said Tommie Kat. Then looking carefully around Tommie said:

"I'm going to play a trick."

"How?" Jackie asked.

"With my kite—on Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. Listen Jackie and cross your heart you won't tell."

"I promise—cross my heart!" whined Jackie, and with his paw he made a cross where he thought his heart was. Only he crossed the wrong side, but that didn't matter for Jackie wouldn't tell Tommie's secret anyhow.

"This is what I'm going to do," went on Tommie Kat. "I'm going to make a kite that looks just like Uncle Wiggily. I'll fly this rabbit kite up in the air over the hol- low stump bungalow. Nurse Jane will see it and she'll think the March wind has blown Uncle Wig- gily up to the sky. She'll get all excited and yell like anything."

"That'll be lots of fun!" barked Jackie, but, perhaps if Nurse Jane had been there she would not have thought it so much fun.

However, the two little animal boys made the kite, fastening pa- per and strings on sticks until it looked at a distance quite like Un- cle Wiggily, with his long ears, pink, twinkling nose and every- thing else. Tommie made the pink nose with some paints from his sister's color box.

"Now we'll fly the kite up in the air," said the pussy boy, and he and Jackie went out toward the vacant lots to do this. Jackie was to hold the kite up off the ground and Tommie was going to run with it. Soon the thing of paper, string and sticks, looked like a bunny rabbit gentleman, was sailing in the air up over the hollow stump bungalow.

"When Nurse Jane sees it she'll get excited and holler and it will be lots of fun!" laughed Tommie and Jackie.

Now, as it happened, Uncle Wiggily had not gone out of the hollow stump bungalow that day. He remained in because he had a little cold, and, of course, when Nurse Jane looked out of the win- dow and saw the rabbit kite float- ing in the air, the muskrat lady housekeeper knew at once it couldn't be Uncle Wiggily. For he was right there with her.

"But if you hadn't been at home I might have thought it was you," the muskrat lady said with a laugh. "Do you suppose some of the bad animals are flying a kite like you Uncle Wiggily, to catch you in a trap?"

"No, I think some of the ani- mal boys are doing this to play a joke on you," "But I think also that it is likely to play a trick on the bad animals. "Look!" He pointed to the Fox, Wolf and Bob Cat sneaking along over the lots.

The bad animals had seen Tom- mie's kite in the air and, not knowing any better, they thought it was really Uncle Wiggily.

"He must have fallen out of his airship!" said the Bob Cat. "He will soon come down to earth and when he falls we can jump on him and nibble his ears. Come on!"

Just then, the wind having died away, Tommie's rabbit kite began to fall. Down and down it fluttered. The Fox, the Wolf and the Bob Cat ran to where it would land.

"I'm going to make a kite that looks like Uncle Wiggily."

"Look! Look!" barked Jackie to Tommie. "This trick is go- ing to turn out different than you expected. Your kite is a goner, Tomme!"

"I don't care, if it saves Uncle Wiggily," mewed the pussy boy.

Just then the kite came to earth and down upon it pounced the Bob Cat, the Fox and Wolf.

"Now we have you, Uncle Wig- gily!" they howled. "Now we can nibble your ears!" They bit, scratched and clawed, but they only found themselves tangled up in the strings, sticks and paper. All tangled up they were, their mouth filled with paper sticks and string.

"Fooled again!" howled the Bob Cat, as he and his two friends sneaked away. "Will we ever get that rabbit?"

Of course, Tommie was a little unhappy over what happened to his kite, but still, as he said, it was better than having his bunny uncle's ears nibbled.

And if the sugar spoon doesn't try to catch a ride on the egg- beater when it's twirling about like a merry-go-'round, I'll tell you next of Uncle Wiggily and Susie's ribbon.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

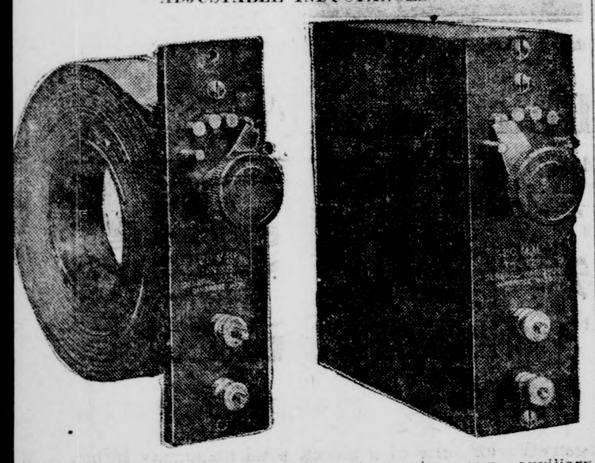
ADJUSTABLE INDUCTANCES



The coils are approximately of axwellian shape. The winding such as to keep the distributed pacitance a minimum. This is particularly important feature that it increases the range over hich any one coil may be used d, what is more important, it creases the efficiency of the coil keeping the dielectric losses a inimum. These coils are rugged construction and attractive in ppearance. The case is of pol- hed wood with engraved bakelite nel. The metal parts are fin- hed in polished nickel.

One very distinctive feature bout these coils is that they are lf-supporting and accordingly do not require any auxiliary mounting. Coupling between coils is varied by simply changing the distance between coils or by turn- ing through any desired angle. The arrangement of taps is such as to give values of approximately 20, 45, 75 and 100 per cent of the maximum inductance.

These coils are adapted for gen- eral laboratory use, as well as for radio receiving sets. It is seldom necessary to use a complete set of twelve coils to cover all ranges from 150 to above 200,000 meters. A satisfactory three coil arrange- ment for this range will be shown next.

THEATRES

The GLENDALE

In "One Exciting Night," that shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today, D. W. Griffith has not attempted the spectacular or relied on stirring mob scenes but has merely pre- sented an excellent modern mys- tery drama in the Griffith way.

He was not content, however, with the usual, so a hurricane was used for a climax, bringing with it a rolling crescendo of thrills such as this producer stands supreme in producing.

Clutching hands reach out with breath-taking suspense, a weird figure flits through the vibrant shadows, doors open and close mysteriously, panels slide, knives flash, wicked eyes peer—until the "Perils of Pauline" melt off into a marshmallow frappe. See- ing "One Exciting Night" is an exciting night in itself!

The T. D. & L.

"The Hero," a Gasnier produc- tion, now showing at the T. D. & L. Theatre, is a picturization of the famous Broadway stage suc- cess in which Richard Bennett and Robert Ames were seen on the New York stage last season.

Gasnier, who directed the pro- duction, is responsible for such films as "Kismet," "Rich Men's Wives" and many other successes. He has assembled a fine cast, in- cluding Gaston Glass, Barbara La Marr, Doris Pawn, David Butler and little Frankie Lee.

The story tells of two brothers, one a wastrel and the other a plodding fellow. The prodigal returns from France covered with decorations, an idol of the pub- lic, only to sink back into his old ways. How his regeneration is effected through another glorious sacrifice is the basis of the in- genious plot.

RADIO DEVELOPMENT

By LIEUT JOHN R. IRWIN
U. S. AIR SERVICE (RESERVE)

TUNING A RECEIVER

In the preceding articles, before we diverted to allow for the non- technical reader for the analogy to be drawn between the tuning of a violin and a radio receiver, we had assumed that the receiver to be tuned was a standard in- ductively coupled receiver. When we speak of standard we do not mean a standard of one manufac- turer, a receiver identical with all others in exterior finish, but a standard in the matter of the cir- cuits only. Such a set has two separate and distinct circuits: first, the primary or antenna cir- cit, and the secondary or de- tector circuit. As the name im- plies, they are coupled to each other inductively—that is to say, the energy received in the antenna circuit is transferred to the sec- ondary circuit by induction. The magnetic lines of force set up in the primary of the oscillation transformer cut the windings of the secondary portion of that transformer, inducing a relatively large current therein, which is in turn rectified by the crystal de- tector into direct current which in turn effects the telephone re- ceivers, permitting audible signals to be heard either in the form of the familiar dots and dashes of the Morse code, or in the case of the telephone, voice signals.

The average receiver of the above type has four principal tun- ing handles, which are plainly marked. In the primary circuit will be the "primary inductance" and the primary condenser." In the other circuit will be found the "secondary inductance" and the secondary condenser." There will also be found a fifth control marked "coupling,', a very im- portant item in the scheme of things, as will presently be shown.

Having joined up the set to the antenna and the ground by attach- ing each to the terminals thus marked the set should be ready for operation.

Before turning to that operation it is well to remind the reader that the ground connection must be a very good one—that is, the ground should be made to some large water pipe, if in an apart- ment house, and if this is not available a large rod driven into the ground until it encounters water or very damp earth will do. Another form of ground is a large number of wires fairly long buried in damp soil under the an- tenna. The connection from the instrument to the ground should be as short as possible and of a strip of copper, or else a braided or stranded cable of many strands. This is to prevent resistance in the antenna circuit. Any ground lead over ten feet long is consid- ered a long lead.

The Search for a Heroine

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

Cedric Lake had been given enough advantages in his youth to make him intolerant. Out of college he was a languid, superior person who had made up his mind to take several years to select the occupation which would best suit his talents. In the meantime there were books to be read and no end of interesting things to be done.

When Cedric's brother was injured and taken to Main Hospital, he performed a brotherly duty by visiting the bedside twice a week. Once when he was told he would have to wait he paused by the telephone exchange in the hall and saw Martha. Cedric Lake, for all his ideas of social distinction, was impressed.

"Do you know," he said one day as he lingered near the girl's desk, "the trouble with all of us nowadays is we are forced to perform so much that is routine we do not know how to be natural. I mean the average man or woman would hesitate before doing anything big or brave because of the attention he would attract. We stand and gape at an accident in the street when we should be helping. There are no brave men and women any more."

Cedric had been reading of the heroines of fiction and the idea persisted. He would seek out a brave girl, he told himself, one who dared act boldly in an emergency. Then he thought of Martha poking away at her switchboard, a part of the great telephone machine.

"Who can blame her," asked Cedric, "if she has no time for the real things of life?"

Though Martha never encouraged the young man to talk she was unable to escape hearing his views on this favorite subject. Inside of two weeks she chided him gently, asking the progress of the search for a heroine, and was not disturbed when she offended him so much that he passed her desk without stopping two days in succession. Then the visits were resumed and a certain friendship developed. Cedric was wondering if it would do for him to call on Martha.

The large hospital trembled slightly, and a dull boom sounded as if in the basement. Quickly Martha tested out the wires and waited a report from the janitor or superintendent.

"The ammonia tank has blown up!" said an excited voice. "Pretty soon the gas will reach the floors. We don't think there is any real danger if the windows are kept open.

Martha started at the top of the board and rang one room after another. "Open the windows," she told all who answered, "and do not be afraid. There will be a smell of ammonia, but if you keep calm and get the fresh air, there will be no harm." She spoke cheerfully and confidently, and by the time the gasses reached the halls she had most of the calls made. Cedric leaning on the rail, wondered at her industry and then noticed the smell. He listened to what she was saying.

The gas pushed into the hall in greater volume, bringing tears to the girl's eyes and a choking feeling to the throat.

"I say," said Cedric, "you better get out of here or you'll go under."

Martha looked up. "Keep calm," she said, "and go to an open window or else outside. Whatever you do, don't shout like that. You might start a panic." She went on with her telephoning. Cedric sniffed the air, then walked to the door.

"There is no need for my breathing the stuff," he said. "I can't help her telephone, so I might as well be going."

It does not take long for ammonia fumes to spread through a building and no one who has not tried to breathe in air laden with the nauseous gas can know the agonies of the girl as she plugged the switchboard, saving the more distant rooms to the last. The brass plugs waved uncertainly and the holes seemed like moving dots in a swirling sea. Martha drew upon all her strength to finish the task. Then she fainted.

An emergency ventilating system whirred into action and the gas-laden air moved out. Martha recovered consciousness, the center of a group of nurses and the superintendent.

"We owe much to you," the superintendent said, and Martha answered, "I just stayed on the job."

"You have shown me," Cedric said to Martha a few days later, "there can be heroism in the every-day tasks. You have opened my eyes, Martha. Will you marry me?"

The telephone operator looked at the well dressed young man and smiled as she thought how eligible she had once thought him.

"Go on in your search for a heroine," she said slowly, "and when you find her, don't leave her in a time of need."

SAVES SLAYER FROM SUICIDE

Guard Prevents Woman From Taking Life

Mrs. Paulette Saludes

Mrs. Paulette Saludes, pretty little French woman, convicted of second degree murder in New York for shooting to death Oscar M. Martelliere in his office, is closely guarded to prevent her from taking her life. She is the second woman to be convicted in the "closed season" for shooting men—the first two so convicted in many years in New York—and already has made several unsuccessful attempts to end her life. The conviction automatically carries a sentence of from twenty years to life. Mrs. Saludes declares she shot Martelliere because he won her from her husband and then stole all her property.

Diet and Health

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

ANSWERS TO CO RRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:

"To me your shrink-your-stomach is a revelation. After following your advice I find myself a free person again. I expected to suffer dreadfully while taking your instructions. In fact, I put it off from day to day until your timely and forceful paper 'It Won't Be Any Easier Tomorrow' appeared. So I started, and behold! I am just as pleased and happy as can be. I have lost ten pounds in one week and feel so clean and full of pep. I certainly will never allow my stomach to regain beyond its proper size again.

"I love the Adorable Sockums and I am in love with his Mama and Daddy, too.—Mrs. H."

Because I have had so very many letters telling me that "It Won't Be Any Easier Tomorrow" started them in the right path, and so many asking for it again, I shall repeat it tomorrow.

Your loss of ten pounds for the first week is all right, Mrs. H., as it included your three-day shrinking stomach period on the 500 or 600 calories of liquids. After the first week, though, it is not desirable to lose more than two pounds a week, because on a diet that causes a greater loss than that you will not get the needed elements for your system, and this is harmful.

Thank you for letting us know how well you got along.

Mrs. W. and the many others who have written about the elastic stockings—You ought to be able to get these at any surgical supply house. If they haven't them they would order them for you. Or your druggist will order them if there is no surgical supply house in your neighborhood.

M. S.—Your not feeling well and being a little dizzy might or might not be due to the fact that your monthly periods were about to start. The monthly periods begin usually during the ages of 11 to 17. If you are not feeling better, you ought to see your family physician.

M.—If the syphilis of your friend was not cured, and she had children, it certainly could be passed on to them. It requires a long period of treatment to cure syphilis. It is just as severe when acquired innocently, as your friend acquired it, as it is when acquired otherwise.

Yes, if a man had a syphilitic sore mouth he could infect others by kissing. He can also infect others who might use the same glass or other dishes unless they were sterilized afterwards. This is one of the reasons why the state laws enforcing sterilization of glasses and all dishes at soda fountains and restaurants should be better enforced. You can help in this enforcement by reporting violations of it to your health department.

Your friend should be under the care of a physician who specializes in this disease.

Mrs. J.—If you are used to exercising you can continue the exercises while you are pregnant. Of course, you would have to omit the more strenuous ones in the latter months.

If you find while reducing that the 900 C's satisfy you, you need not go up to the 1200 C's, providing you are not reducing too rapidly. If you are pregnant I doubt whether you can get in 900 C's of food the elements that are needed for yourself and your baby.

There is no more delicious dessert than a quick boiled caramel pudding. Here are "just how" directions for making it: Put into a frying pan one cup of brown sugar. Place the pan over a moderately hot fire and stir now and then till its contents are melted (they will melt in about ten minutes). Now add slowly one-half cup of boiling water; it will sizzle up and cause the melted sugar to harden into small lumps. The mixture must now be cooked for a few minutes more, to melt these lumps. When they are almost all melted, remove the pan from the stove and pour the brown liquid through a fine sieve into a small bowl. Stir into this bowl one-fourth cup of granulated sugar and one teaspoon of cornstarch mixed together; then turn the mixture again through the sieve and place it in a medium-size saucepan over a good fire. Add at once one cup of cold, sweet milk and let cook for five minutes—when it will be thickened. You must stir almost constantly during this thickening period. At the end of the five minutes, add one well-beaten egg-yolk (in adding it, mix a little of the hot pudding with the yolk, to heat the yolk, then turn it into the saucepan.) Now, after it boils up once or twice again, remove from fire and turn into three individual pudding dishes. Fold a part of one stiffly beaten egg-white into each dish and place in a cold place to cool. Or it may be served hot if desired.

Many housewives like to keep homemade caramel flavoring on hand always, to use in place of vanilla extract or other flavorings. To do this, simply follow the caramelizing process as described above, cooling and bottling your flavoring after you have added the hot water to the melted sugar and cooked again to melt the lumps. Strain the liquid into a funnel, which you have placed in a clean bottle, and let cool. Take care that the bottle is not cold, or it may break from having the hot flavoring poured into it.

This home-made flavoring may be used in making baked custards, boiled custards, grapenuts puddings and custard pies. It is less expensive to use than the bottled extracts—although, of coure, the bottled extracts are indispensable for certain desserts.

BEAUTY CHATS

TOUCHING UP THE LIPS

Chapped lips are not necessarily a winter affliction. March winds are often more disastrous than February frosts to the girl with a sensitive skin.

Such a girl will need some sort of lipe salve up to the very warm days of spring, indeed if the summer is very hot she will probably find that the sun will dry and chap her lips, as well as wet wind and winter cold. Now the ordinary lip rouge may keep the skin from chapping, but it has many disadvantages. The warmer the weather the more it shows up. Indeed, there is never any way of disguising the fact that the lips have been touched with red. It comes off on the handkerchief or the table napkin, or it rubs against the veil of the hat, it leaves its scarlet mark against anything it touches. Besides, unless it is put on with more skill than ninety out of a hundred possess, it makes the face look made-up.

The lips vary so in color that it is almost impossible to match their exact tint, so, consequently, all our women go about with dark, medium or bright vermillion mouths, the three shades found in beauty shops, all of them tending to the conventional cupid's bow shape with a varying outer line of paler natural color lips. You may think I am over-critical in saying this, but then it is my business to be so, and if you yourself will observe as carefully as I you will see how tinted lips tend to monotony.

The way around the difficulty in my opinion is to buy the untinted lipsticks, made of a white lip cream which does not easily come off, which does not mark when it does come off, which keeps the lips soft and protects them from the weather.

A Girl:—"Bitter Aloes" is the name of an extract made from herbs that are extremely bitter. As there is nothing in it that is harmful it is often used to paint under the tip of nails to break up the habit of biting them. A girl of 19 who is five feet two and a half inches would be normal weight at 110 pounds.

Anxious:—Bleach the freckles with lemon juice or an extract made from cucumbers. Freckles will always return if they are natural to your type.

J. M. C.:—Cleansing cream is used to clear the pores in place of soap. In localities where the air is laden with soil that gets into the skin, it requires such a cream to keep it clean. The best time for such a cleansing is at night before retiring. Remove the cream and close the pores by dashing cold water over the face and throat.

Side Talks

THE PATRONIZERS

Some day I expect to hear that some unmarried woman has violently assaulted some married neighbor or relative, without any apparent cause.

And I expect that when the cause finally is dragged to light it will prove to be this:

That the unmarried woman got to the point where she couldn't stand the smug air of superiority which her married friend put on on account of the fact that she was married.

And, while I believe in law and order, well, my sympathy would not be altogether with the victim of the hair pulling or face scratching or whatever form that expression of feeling chanced to take.

Oftentimes when I hear and see married women patronizing their unmarried friends, and sisters-in-law, and other unfortunate relatives, I wonder how the latter stand it without some sharper retorts than they do make.

I Wonder at It

People talk about sour old maids. Some of the sweetest, happiest women I ever knew were unmarried, but I wonder at it, for having to stand the married woman's patronage is alone enough to make anyone sour.

Of course the woman who does not marry misses some of the deepest realities of life. But so does the woman who marries a man she has only a mild feeling for, or the woman who marries and never has children. But both of these will patronize the unmarried woman.

I suppose the married woman's assumption of superiority is based on the fact that someone has loved her well enough to want to support her for the rest of her life (or to think he did.) And for some perfectly unknown reason she assumes that the unmarried woman never had anyone feel that way. The idea that she may have preferred to remain unmarried to accepting the first man who offered never seems to occur to the married woman.

Half a Dozen Chances

As a man once said, when he happened to hear a married woman patronizing an unmarried woman who had been very attractive in her youth: "I'll bet that woman married the first man she had a chance at, and I'll bet the other woman turned down half a dozen."

In one case where the married woman used to patronize one of her girlhood friends who had not married I am morally sure the unmarried woman actually turned down the very man her patronizing friend afterwards married.

As I write, there passes on the street below my window one of the very happiest, most contented women I ever knew in my life. She never married, taught school forty years, and is independent in her old age. I think she has been to call on one of her old friends, a widow, whose husband caused her nothing but misery. As a result of her marriage she is broken down in health and living in considerable poverty. I wonder if she tries to patronize her teacher friend because she never married. I'll bet she does.

Kidnapers Apologize After Whipping Victim

Irish Rebels Try to Get Artillery in U. S.

DUBLIN, March 21.—The Free State government revealed that the republican irregulars are attempting to obtain artillery in the United States for warfare against the regulars.

Says Efficiency Would Save Roads Millions

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Efficient handling of locomotives alone would save forty large railroads of the United States a half billion dollars annually in coal and capital invested. Senator James Couzens, Republican, Michigan, declared in discussing the American transportation problem.

Predicting the Sixty-eighth congress would be forced to meet the railroad situation face to face, Senator Couzens warned that the "railroad doctors" are preparing to give the nation an anaesthetic, in the form of statistics, curved lines and tables, preparatory to a painless operation in December.

There are two sets of propagandists, at large, according to Couzens—the first are those defending the railroads as now operated; the second class, "demagogues" exaggerating the railroad difficulties.

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Jack Dempsey says that he will be pleased to meet Firpo, conqueror of Brennan. Mr. Dempsey has made this same statement in regard to a number of other professional boxers, but the fact that he wants the world with a fence around it to induce him to get into the ring with any of these gents precludes any possibility of such a meeting.

Another "terrible" Turk has had the handle to his appellation changed to "Execrable" at the hands of former champion Joe Stecher. Yussef Hussane was able to stick just 38 minutes during which time The "Terrible" one writhed twice in the Stecher leg body scissors before the fall. The match had a time limit of two hours so the audience got an early start for home and bed.

"Spider" Kelly, well known to the ring fans of a decade ago as a lightweight and subsequently considered one of the best "seconds" to a fighter in the game, has been sojourning in Arizona for the last two years owing to a tubercular tendency. The "Spider" is making good in his fight for his health and takes an active interest in all matters pertaining to the ring. He now thinks that he has a protege who will make good in the heavyweight ranks after a little more nursing and coaching. Kelly knows a man when he has the earmarks of a fighter and it would not be surprising if, before long, another prospect was launched.

The public is taking with a large grain of salt the charges being made against Babe Ruth by a young New York girl. The charges made against Tex Rickard, the New York fight promoter, by a couple of young girls, still is fresh in the mind of the public. These charges never were substantiated and Rickard was exonerated. Certainly all hands hope that Ruth is guiltless in the matter. His standing in the popular esteem has become precarious in recent months and it could scarcely stand the strain of any additional misdemeanors.

Spring football training at Stanford university will begin the first week in April under the direct supervision of Coach Glenn Warner. This will be the only opportunity Warner will have to look over the material as his Eastern contract does not terminate until the close of the next football season. With the close of his Pittsburg contract, Warner will come to Stanford as coach, for which position he signed a contract last year with the proviso that he be permitted to finish out his Eastern obligations.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Mixed contests such as a race between man and horse, a bout between wrestler and boxer or a competition over a golf course between golfers and men with bows and arrows mean absolutely nothing in the estimation of the majority of sports followers and the interest they arouse is merely superficial. None of these affairs proves anything to the satisfaction of anybody. Everyone knows that a horse can get over the ground twice as fast as a man and, over a certain distance, with a sufficient handicap the man can sometimes come in ahead. A mixed wrestling and boxing match would never prove anything for, should the boxer win, the proponents of the wrestler would simply say, well if such and such another matman had been in the ring it would have been a different story, and vice versa. In the final analysis, it is merely searching for something by way of a novelty and merely is one way of passing the time.

So called "championships" in every line of sport have increased to such an extent that it is the exception now rather than the rule when the sun sets on a day when some championship has not been contested and decided. This is attested to by the fact that records books now are thick tomes in which there is an array of thousands of figures. Of course the national championships claim first attention but, when it is considered that a record can be a world, national, sectional, state, city, track or meet figure, there is no end to the complication and it is for this reason that there is so much confusion and the carrying of records being broken when, in reality, other figures are better.

Standardization of sports rules seems to be the trend of the day and it is for the best interests of all sorts of competitive games that this should be so particularly in view of the increasing number of international contests. The golfers and the tennis players of the various countries seem to be getting together on a common basis, track and field sports as well as polo admit of the same interpretation of the rules and so it is going along the whole gamut of sport.

"He will, he won't, he will, he won't"—again Mr. Charles Paddock champion temperamental sprinter of the amateur world is keeping the sports following guessing as to his running plans for the coming season. Sir Charles seems to have regular spells of this sort and it would seem to be the best plan to say nothing until he is actually in competition. If Paddock hit on this plan as a means of free publicity he can pat himself on the back that all hands have fallen in with his scheme.

Hunt Alleged Slayer Of Maniac Woodsman

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Infuriated citizens and rangers were scouring the Santa Barbara forest reserve above Sisquec, eighty miles north of here, for Harry Palgen, a French-Canadian trapper, wanted for the murder of Walter Truscott, a Sisquec maniac, according to word received here.

Palgen and Truscott are said to have quarreled over a lion's pelt, during which Palgen spiked Truscott with his heavy boots, inflicting injuries which caused his death at a local hospital. After the fight Palgen was reported to have fled to the mountains.

Fearing that a lynching might take place should the trapper be found, the rangers joined the searching party to avert any trouble.

STUFFY McINNIS
ALTHOUGH ONE OF THE GAME'S GREATEST FIRST BASEMEN STUFFY, HAS BEEN GIVEN THE GATE RIGHT WHEN HE IS AT HIS BEST
"COME TO PAPA! YA AIN'T GOTTA CHANCE IN A THOUSAND OF GETTING— AWAY FROM ME"
McINNIS MADE ONE OF THE MOST REMARKABLE RECORDS IN ALL BASEBALL IN 1921 WHEN HE HANDLED 1650 CHANCES COMMITTING BUT ONE ERROR
WHAT! HE WANTS THE SAME SALARY WE PROMISED HIM? HA! HA! WHAT A CHANCE
WHAT-DA I CARE IF HE IS A STAR? WE'LL SHOW HIM HE CAN'T RUN OUR GAME
EVERY BODY JUST PASS HIM UP
MAG-NUTS
STUFFY
MANY CLUBS COULD IMPROVE THEIR LINE-UPS WITH McINNIS BUT HE WAS WAIVERED OUT OF BOTH LEAGUES
WOOD COWAN

Just to show how strong a grip organized baseball has on our national game, let us look at the case of Stuffy McInnis.

Here's a star first baseman, one of the best in either league, who batted well over .300 the past two seasons, and a fielder without a peer in baseball, being waivered out of the big circuits because a contract called for $12,000, the same salary as last year.

Cleveland obtained McInnis in a trade with the Boston Red Sox in 1921, after he had finished one of his greatest seasons, during which he made the most remarkable fielding records in baseball. Stuffy handled 1650 chances and committed but one error.

His performance again last year with the Indians left little to be desired, but evidently Speaker thinks that Stuffy isn't worth 12,000 iron men a season, so waivers were asked and, although mighty near the top of his game, this star was passed up by every club in both circuits.

There are three or four teams that could use McInnis even to the tune of $12,000 a year, but giving him the gate serves all concerned very well—except Stuffy.

It may be that McInnis was given the air without an understanding among all big league magnates. But if he was, then Carpentier and Siki are kissing each other every time they meet. The owners are fighting a baseball players' union with the slogan that players need no protection; that they are always dealt with in an upright and square manner, but, believe us, McInnis is worth $24,000 and the waiver price to a half-dozen clubs.

McInnis will be signed, no doubt, by some club, but at a greatly reduced salary. That's just it—a player is penalizezd because he wants a raise in pay. Ambition is put under a handicap when the game is in the control of a few men, as it is today.

So it comes down to the fact, it seems to us, that in this case it was not the money but the principle of the thing—just throwing a few scares into the hold-outs to take the magnates' salary offers or take the gate.

INDIANS ENTER VALLEY LEAGUE

Manager of Team Asks Local Public to Give Required Support

The Glendale "Indians" have by their fine playing earned a much-coveted berth in the Valley league, announces Manager Walt Heidler.

As this outfit is one of the strongest circuits in the summer leagues of the Southern California Baseball Managers' association, some stiff requirements were demanded of the Glendale team before they were allowed to enter.

One of these is a neatly uniformed team. Another is a good grounds, enclosed if possible, with an adequate backstop. Still another is the posting of $100 as a forfeit purse.

In order to meet these requirements, the Indians are putting on a dance at the Odd Fellows' hall, April 6, and Manager Heidler is confident the people of Glendale will support this effort to raise the funds necessary for maintaining their place in the league.

Aid to Glendale

Glendale will derive great benefit from thus becoming a duly recognized baseball city, in the opinion of Manager Heidler and his associates. Inasmuch as every daily paper up and down the valley will carry the account of the games played, Glendale is bound to come in for a large amount of publicity, they point out.

Such a program will require a stronger support for the local team all along the line, but the Indians are confident that from the way the fans have backed them up in the past, the needed support will not be lacking.

Manager Heidler may be reached at 420 Ivy street. His phone number is Glendale 1272-M.

The Sport Crucible
By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, March 21.—If the well laid plans of Mr. T. Rickard do not "gane agley," the present heavyweight champion, three former incumbents of that eminent position and two prominent contenders for the title will be in or near the ring on the afternoon of May 12, when Jess Willard and Floyd Johnson do battle for sweet charity, $25,000 apiece and the right to make over the gestures at Jack Dempsey.

The list includes brother Dempsey himself, champion and illustrious author; Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett, ex champions, whose names will live as long as fists are fists; Willard, another former champion, and Johnson and Luis Angel Firpo, contenders of repute.

Dempsey, according to present plans, is to referee the Willard-Johnson bout, with Jeffries and Corbett sitting at the ring side in the role of judges. This same trio will officiate when Firpo and his unknown adversary come together in the same ring on the same afternoon, the only exception being that Jeffries is scheduled to referee this one.

Corbett, it seems, is to sit in comparative ease and refinement throughout, merely counting the points as he sees them.

The three champions, past and present, have been invited to officiate by Rickard, according to a semi-official statement, and it is taken for granted that they will accept.

White Bud Winner in English Turf Classic

LONDON, March 21.—The Lincolnshire handicap was won today by White Bud. Roman Bachelor ran second and Soval third. A horse by the name of "Tons of Money" was the favorite. The owner bought it a few months ago for $150. White Bud was a long shot, paying 66 to 1.

Sieger Gets Verdict Over Babe Herman

NEW YORK, March 21.—Sammy Sieger, New York, won decision over Babe Herman, California, twelve rounds.

The man who thinks he lacks time generally lacks energy.

Special Session of Coast League Looms

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Probability that a special meeting of the Pacific Coast league will be called before April 1 as a result of the new alignment of clubs due to the sale of Seattle, was declared to be strong today.

Cal Ewing, head of the Oakland club, was quoted as saying that he would initiate the call if no one else did.

So far President William H. McCarthy, whose supporters are now in minority, has given no indication of any intention of resigning before his term is up.

If the special meeting is called, the action of the league in going on record against the draft is expected to be reversed.

There is also a likelihood that the action of the league in giving Vernon equal territorial rights with Los Angeles in the southern city will be undone. Vernon is now one of the minority clubs.

The vote on the draft and the Vernon territorial matter was even until McCarthy cast a deciding vote with his then four supporting clubs—San Francisco, Seattle, Sacramento and Vernon.

Interest today centered in the fate of Harry Wolverton, who was to have staged his return to baseball as manager of Seattle. The new owners were to arrive at San Jose today for a conference. It is expected he will refuse to accept a position of scout for the year his managerial contract has to run.

Greek Prince to Stay Out of Native Land

NEW YORK, March 21.—Declaring he had no intention of returning to his motherland, Prince Andrew of Greece, accompanied by Princess Alice, sailed for England on the liner Aquitania.

"I was nearly strung up once" he laughed, as he disclaimed his intention of going to Greece, "and I'm not going to take another chance on it. It is enough for me."

Prince Christopher and Princess Anastasia, the latter formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds, widow of the "tin plate king," who were expected to sail with Prince Andrew, changed their minds at the last moment. Princess Anastasia has a severe cold and her physician ordered her to remain in bed. She will sail later.

Book Policeman on Conspiracy Charge

CHICAGO, March 21.—Patrolman George Hamann, of the Town hall police station, was booked on a charge of conspiracy to commit robbery, following the alleged confession of two prisoners who credited the policeman with plotting a robbery last October in which $273 was stolen.

This is the Tread

The Tread of the Western Giant Cord, the tread that wears, and wears, and wears. Look at it—heavy, strong, built-up square, to give a maximum of traction and wearing surface. Yes, it still wears after most treads are gone.

The Tread of Safety—see the strong bars of rubber along the side of the tread, and the row of suction cups down the center—these with the flatness of the tread mean a non-skid security that is dependable. Users say it is the best non-skid they have ever used.

The Western Giant Cord is guaranteed for 12,000 miles, and the guarantee is backed by the strength of our entire organization. You can buy these tires only at "Western Auto" stores, but you will buy only "Western Giants" after you have tried them.

Not only are prices lower than other fine tires, but for a limited period a Guaranteed Tube is being given with each Western Giant Cord.

Lower in Price Than Other Fine Tires

Fabric Tires

Thousands of customers come back to us year after year for more fabric tires because they get good service. We handle three grades: The Western Giant, which is the finest material and workmanship procurable, guaranteed 8000 miles; the Pharis, which is standard quality, full size and weight and our "old standby" since 1914, guaranteed 7000 miles; also the Nebraska, a really good, serviceable tire at an extremely low price, guaranteed 6000 miles.

—Vacation —Hair Effects!

Perhaps you were so careless as to permit the salt water to dry in your hair.

That doesn't sound half as dangerous as it really is in its disastrous effects on some hair.

Marinello oil-packs and other hair-work will help remedy your hair—if you don't wait too long.

K-L Pills

For Kidney and Liver Troubles, Constipation, Intestinal Indigestion and Kindred Ailments

Liver trouble leads to serious ills. And a sure sign of liver trouble is biliousness. If you have attacks of headache, if you have a coated tongue, if you have a fickle appetite, you probably are bilious—which may lead to derangement of the liver and to serious and quite often fatal results. Read this strong endorsement of Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills. Mrs. J. H. Stone, Route No. 3, Baxley, Ga., writes:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with my kidneys, liver and also my heart. I find Dr. A. W. Chase's K-L Pills a wonderful remedy. They certainly are the finest I ever used. I would not be without them in my home and take great pleasure in recommending them to my friends."

You can buy Dr. Chase's K-L Pills at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on each box—your protection against imitation.

ASKS C. C. BOARD TO MEET COUNCIL

Plans to Purchase Airport Told by City Manager At Luncheon

mended that the Chamber of Commerce take an active interest in the project submitted by the Santa Monica boulevard organization, as he believed the improvement of the highway, as outlined, would work great benefit to Glendale.

The improvement of Glendale boulevard is to be considered at a meeting in the Hotel Melrose in Los Angeles, Thursday, according to a communication to the board by the acting secretary, E. F. Sanders, and it was decided to send a committee of three members of the Chamber of Commerce to represent the interests of Glendale in the discussions, which are being held under the auspices of the Biltmore Association. The widening of Glendale boulevard, it was stated, would help in reducing the traffic problems that are becoming more and more acute on this particular highway and would permit greater ease of travel to and from Glendale.

Exposition Report

H. S. McCormack, chairman of the publicity committee, reported on the sale of reservations in the Merchants' Industrial Exposition, to be held here from May 25 to June 3, and stated that there are now contracts for $4900 actually in the hands of the committee, and it is hoped to run this sum up to $6000 within the next few days, when the liability of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and of the Glendale Credit association would be entirely covered by money received with the applications for space. Various prizes are to be awarded to visitors to the exposition, and the Pacific Electric has agreed to furnish 500 banners, to be attached to its cars, advertising the exposition, free of charge. The railway has also given permission to the exposition committee to place announcements on its poles throughout the city. Plans for disposing of admission tickets to the members of the Chamber of Commerce were also discussed.

An invitation was received from the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Central Avenue school asking the directors and their wives to be present as patrons at the entertainment to be given by the Stanford Glee club on Monday night.

The directors endorsed a plan submitted by J. T. Edwards by which he agrees to make a relief map of Glendale to be exhibited at the Merchants' Industrial Exposition.

A number of other communications were read and disposed of, and the board then went into the committee of the whole.

Ozark Citizens Arm To Halt Union Raid

a strike on the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad.

The citizens scoff at defending themselves against the charges of labor leaders that armed bands of residents chased the strikers from the country.

Told Strikers to Go

"Of course we did—what of it?" each witness answers. Rather than a defense, the citizens stand on the ground that the public right comes before the interests of the labor union. However, they deny any woman or child was mistreated.

'Sure we got our guns and told the strikers to move," Judge J. C. Maples, for 20 years on the circuit court bench in the Ozark district, told the senators and representatives. 'And, by the eternal, so the citizens of Arkansas tell the world the strike is over."

All of the witnesses denied knowledge of the identity of the men responsible for the lynching of E. C. Gregor, a striker, hanged during the rioting.

The courtroom is packed to overflowing. Farmers, the Arkansas "hill billies" come in from miles around by mule team and by flivvers. More than a hundred witnesses are scheduled to be examined.
